Earned Income Tax Credit (Please note the following stipulations may apply to the other credits listed below in the "Due Diligence" section.)

Earned Income Credit (EIC) is a refundable credit available to qualifying low income earners. To qualify for this credit, several conditions must be met: * Relationship - the dependent child must be your son, daughter, stepchild, foster child, grandchild, brother, sister, niece, or nephew. * Age - the child must be under age 19 at the end of 2023; under age 24 at the end of 2023 if a student; or any age if permanently and totally disabled.* Residency - the child must have lived with you in the U.S. for more than half of 2023. *Tiebreaker Rules - These rules determine if a taxpayer may claim a child as a qualifying child for the EIC when the child meets the definition of a qualifying child for more than one person. *If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the parent. *If the parents file a joint return together and can claim the child as a qualifying child, the child is treated as the qualifying child of both of the parents. *If the parents do not file a joint return together but both parents claim the child as a qualifying child, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during the year. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for the year. *If no parent can claim the child as a qualifying child, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for the year. *If a parent can claim the child as a qualifying child but no parent does so, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for the year, but only if that person's AGI is higher than the highest AGI of any of the child's parents who can claim the child. *Please understand as your 2023 tax preparer, we must make sure you are complying with the requirement for the Earned Income Credit. We or the IRS may request additional documentation (medical records, school records, birth certificates, business records if self-employed, etc.) from you to help verify your ability to claim the EIC credit. It is a CRIMINAL OFFENSE to report false information to claim the Earned Income Tax Credit. The IRS Criminal Investigation Division is actively monitoring tax returns for fraud. Be aware, if you report fraudulent information on your return to obtain the Earned Income Tax Credit, you may lose the ability to qualify for the credit in the future and you could possibly be charged criminally!
